

“I knew I was a man when...”

“I knew I was a man when...”, a First Person Research Project, is seeking to record and analyze first person narratives of African-American men reflecting upon their transition into manhood. Partnering with local and national organizations, Dr. Lathardus Goggins II invites African-American men volunteer to respond to the question, “When did you know you had become a man?”

Are you an African-American male, 18 yrs or older, and you would like to share your experiences...

Contact Lathardus Goggins II, Ed.D. at (tel) 910-962-2657, (email) GogginsL@uncw.edu, or on my facebook. Dr. Goggins will provide the necessary information and schedule an interview.

For more information visit:

<http://people.uncw.edu/gogginsl/FirstPerson>